

WANT HOLMES TRIAL
HELD IN CHICAGO

NEW WARRANT FOR THE MURDERER'S ARREST.

Bloodstained Garments Found in the Englewood House—Prisoner is Thought to Be Weakening—Has Made Another Statement to the Philadelphia Authorities.

Chicago, July 23.—A warrant will be sworn out today, charging Holmes, the murderer, with the death of Mrs. Julia L. Connor. An attempt will be made to bring him here from Peoria. Eighteen inches beneath the uneven surface forming the floor to the basement of the Holmes building in Englewood was discovered last evening a blood-stained undergarment, supposed to have belonged to Minnie Williams before her disappearance. It was dug up a few minutes after the regular force of workmen employed in excavating had abandoned their task for the day. In consequence of the find the theory that Minnie Williams was murdered received an aided force, and the work of excavating will be pushed with fresh impetus to-day.

Philadelphia, Pa., July 23.—Holmes sent word to District Attorney Graham yesterday that he desired to make a statement and the message was construed to mean that he was about to make a confession. The district attorney lost no time in making arrangements for an immediate meeting. The interview lasted nearly three hours. Holmes, it is said, rehearsed his old story regarding his movements in Toronto, Chicago, Detroit, and other places. At times, it is said, he hesitated about answering questions which were put to him by District Attorney Graham and Mr. Barlow. He referred to the mysterious man Hatch, and insisted that he was responsible for the disappearance of the Pitzel children in Toronto. He produced a small diary, which he said belonged to his wife, and which contained dates and incidents of his visit in Toronto. This book, he said, would clear him of the murder charges of the children. He showed considerable nervousness during the interview.

RATIOS THE THEME IN CHICAGO

Mr. Harvey Explains What is Meant by Scientific Bimetallism

Chicago, July 23.—The Harvey-Horr debate was continued yesterday afternoon at the Illinois Club before the usual large audience. Among other salient things, Mr. Harvey said that they were eliminating disputed points as they went along. He had not backed down from anything that was stated in "Coin's Financial School," except in one instance, that the silver coined prior to 1873 was $105,000,000 the correction of the error showed it was $143,000,000. "Thus the only error that was found in the book was an error that was against us," said Mr. Horr, summing up one address. "The years from 1873 to 1891 found our people better employed and at better wages than in any other similar number of years. The number of unemployed to-day is greatly over-stated. The fact is the people to-day are well employed."

Mr. Harvey replied that the demonization of silver threw people out of work. In 1884 the Democrats arraigned the Republicans for being responsible for the terribly hard times, and four years later the Republicans came back at the Democrats for the terrible disasters that spread from ocean to ocean and the number of workmen out of employment. And so it had gone on. Mr. Horr mentioned again that "gold is cheaper than in 1893, and it is only one-half as valuable as 100 years ago. The whole trend of civilization is to cheapen human production, gold as well as silver."

Just before the discussion began Judge Miller arose and said that it was a desirable thing for the contestants to receive encouragement in the shape of applause, but he hoped there would be no demonstrations of disapproval while either was speaking.

The question of the change of ratio was at once taken up when the debate commenced, and innumerable authorities were quoted by both speakers to maintain their positions. The advantage to either side could not be perceived. Mr. Harvey then gave his definition of scientific bimetallism. He said:

"Scientific bimetallism is this: '1. Free and unlimited coinage of both gold and silver; these two metals to constitute the primary or redemption money of the government.'

"2. That silver dollars of 37 1/4 grains of pure silver (with us) to be the unit of value and gold to be coined into money at a ratio to be changed if necessary from time to time if the commercial parity to the legal ratio shall be affected by the action of foreign countries.

"3. The money coined from both metals to be legal tender in the payment of all debts.

"4. The option as to which of the two metals is to be paid in the liquidation of the debt to rest with the debtor, and the government also to exercise that option when desirable in paying out redemption money.

"All of these conditions are necessary. Like any useful mechanical construction all the parts are necessary. 'First, as to unlimited coinage: When the mints are open to unlimited coinage of the two metals, an unlimited demand is created for them. The quantity is limited. When these two metals seek a market they find a demand for their use in the arts and manufactures, which is limited. The surplus finds an unlimited market at the mints to be coined into money, the object for which all other products seek the market. They thus have an unlimited market, as the mints are open to all that comes. Supply of precious metals is limited. When the mints are open an unlimited demand is created. This demand is limited only by the capacity of the business of the country to absorb money.

"With a limited supply and unlimited demand, what stops their value rising?

It is this: The law says, 'We coin 37 1/4 grains pure silver and 23 1/2 grains pure gold, respectively, into dollars, and confer upon these coins functions which make for them a permanent and equal demand.' When this is the law people will not take less for their silver and gold, the quantities above named, than a dollar of current money, for they have the right to have it coined into dollars. The law fixes the quantity in the dollar, and the unlimited demand holds it firmly to that point. In this respect money is a creation of law. Without this law there is a demand for the metals. The law adds a new use and a demand for it.

"This unlimited demand for the two metals existed in all the world at ratios one to the other up to 1816, when England closed her mints to silver. The demand thus made fixed the commercial value of the two metals at the ratio fixed by law. England closing her mints had practically no effect. She was at that time the greatest commercial nation in the world, but the commerce and trade of the other nations were sufficient to absorb all the surplus of both metals, and the closing of the English mints to silver made no difference. It was designed to do so and was the beginning of the movement intended to limit the quantity of primary money to one of the metals and correspondingly decrease the value of the other metal."

Mr. Horr—"All these inquiries about the valuation in the ratio of the past are of little account in this debate. This one fact is admitted by 'Coin' and disputed by no one: All the civilized nations of the world have ceased the free coinage of silver upon any ratio. Silver to-day has no free coinage in any country where gold is the standard, and only in such countries as are using silver as the unit and measure of value. It is admitted by all, so far as I know, that the real measure of value in the commerce between nations is a grain of gold. All gold coins of all nations pass and for that matter gold in all forms passes current, and the value of such coin or piece is determined by the number of grains of pure gold contained in the same, without regard to the shape in which it may be found. That, understand me, is in the international balances of the world in commercial transactions. The balances between nations, then, are all calculated on a gold basis; silver is used as money in all the nations of the world, but in the civilized countries only as a medium of exchange and not as a measure of value. It matters little how such a state of affairs has been established, since it is the existing fact, hence all this talk about what has been done in the past about ratios, and even as to what has caused the low price of silver to-day, is of little consequence. Silver is cheap. We both agree to that. The great commercial nations of the world all refuse to use it as the measure of value. We don't dispute about that. And hence they are today refusing it free coinage. No coins which are of less value than the market value of the metals in them would indicate are ever treated as the measure of ultimate redemption, nor ever passed current at their face value, except they are redeemable in money which is worth as much coined as uncoined. Hence it is impossible to make silver the money of redemption in a nation doing business on a gold basis, except at its commercial value in gold, and it is useless to attempt to make gold the money of redemption in a country on a silver basis, except at its commercial value. Now 'Coin,' in his 'Financial School,' really admits that the ratio between the two metals must always be determined by the actual value of the metals in the markets of the world, and ignores the doctrine of the ratio of 16 to 1 being possible at the present day."

NOW ENGLAND GRABS
ISLE OF TRINIDAD

COALING STATION ESTABLISHED DESPITE PROTESTS

Brazil Protested But it Did No Good—Island is An Important Strategic Point and is Valuable Because of Its Stores of Pitch and Bitumen.

Rio Janeiro, July 23.—The English have laid claim to the island of Trinidad, and have landed coal there. Brazil has made a vigorous protest. The island is valuable as a coaling station, and has great beds of bitumen.

Mortality Among Spanish Troops.

London, July 23.—Advices from Cuba say that yellow fever and dysentery are causing great mortality among the Spanish troops. The rebels have cut the railway bridges, thus isolating Puerto Principe. It is reported that Maximo Gomez is centering a considerable force of insurgents thirty miles from Puerto Principe. Recent arrivals at the latter city state that while the troops are garrisoned at the principal towns, the rebels have complete control of the country. A large section of the insurgents are prepared to lay down their arms if Spain immediately grants to Cuba complete autonomy combined with allegiance to Spain.

Will Hurt Our Petroleum Trade.

St. Petersburg, July 23.—A treaty has been concluded between Greece and Russia by which a fixed import duty has been determined upon for Russian cereals, and by which Russia is given the monopoly of the kerosene trade in Greece. It is expected that this will have the effect of driving American petroleum from the Greek market.

Damage Done by the Earth's Sinking.

Brux, Bohemia, July 23.—The remarkable sinking of the earth here has caused the collapse of eighteen houses and has done damage to the amount of $300,000.

SILVER CITY LIES IN RUINS

Telegraph Wires Are Down and Information Hard to Get.

Pueblo, Colo., July 23.—Reports from Whitewater, N. M., fifteen miles from Silver City, N. M., are that a greater portion of the business section of the latter place was destroyed by a floor Sunday night, but so far as can be learned at headquarters of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe in this city, where the information is obtained, no lives were lost. All telegraph wires to Silver City are down, and all the news is obtained from couriers arriving at Whitewater.

The Simme House, the largest hotel at Silver City, and a number of business blocks have collapsed. The railroad authorities report the storm the worst ever known in that section. The Santa Fe railroad has lost several bridges on its Silver City branch, and is badly washed out.

First reports were that several lives were lost, even as high as twenty-five, but later couriers, while confirming the reports of damage throughout the section, say that there has been, so far as learned, no loss of life.

Albuquerque, N. M., July 23.—It has been raining for twenty-four hours north and west of this city, and it is still pouring down here. On the east side of the Galisteo river, a small mountain stream, four Santa Fe passenger trains, south and west, bound, are tied up. Four tents of the Galisteo bridge have gone down the raging stream. All trains from the west are delayed by heavy rains and washouts. New Mexico has had more rain in the last two weeks than in ten years before.

DAMAGE IN PENNSYLVANIA.

One Life Lost and Many Buildings and Bridges Washed Away.

Dunbar, Pa., July 23.—The heaviest rain storms and floods that have visited this section for many years occurred here last evening. Rain began to fall at about 6:30 o'clock and continued in torrents over three hours. Trains from Pittsburgh and the Southwest Pennsylvania Railroad, on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, have not yet passed this point. The bridges between Dunbar and Uniontown are all washed away, and the tracks are washed out in many places also. The local streams are swollen higher than at any time since the flood of 1888.

People along the banks of the Dunbar Creek were compelled to flee for their lives, and buildings were carried away in the torrent. The bridges crossing the creek (which runs through the town) are all swept away, separating the town. The Dunbar Furnace Company and the Dunbar Fire Brick Company plants are all flooded. The loss will amount to many thousands of dollars. Samuel Washabaugh, a pumpman at the Cambria Iron Works, was drowned. The pump house was undermined and carried away.

Bradford, Pa., July 23.—Gauley Run rose five feet in twenty minutes and destroyed the county bridges, which drifted against the Pennsylvania Railroad bridge at this place tearing it from its foundations. The Mount Pleasant branch of the Baltimore and Ohio is entirely disabled, being torn up from this place to Morgan. The Pittsburgh and Lake Erie also suffered. Much damage was done in and around Scottsdale. People living in the creek bottoms were not given time to save their furniture.

As to the Act of 1873.

Mansfield, Ohio, July 23.—In the Harvey-Horr debate at Chicago Saturday Mr. Horr said there was a provision in the act of 1873 for a 384 grain dollar worth 5 francs, which was afterward struck out in the Senate and said that if that were so he would stop the debate right there. In an interview Senator Sherman stated that this provision was added to the bill, after it reached the House at the instigation of the citizens of California, who produce both gold and silver, but that it was struck out when the bill reached the Senate.

TAYLOR WONT HANG
CLEVELAND SAYS

WIFE MURDERER GETS A COMMUTATION OF SENTENCE

Execution Had Been Fixed For Friday of this Week—Crowds Flock Into the San Francisco Court House Anxious to See the Emanuel Church Murderer.

Washington, July 23.—President Cleveland today commuted the sentence of Thomas J. Taylor, who was to hang Friday for wife murder.

San Francisco, Cal., July 23.—The trial of William Henry Theodore Durrant for the murder of Blanche Lamont in Emanuel Baptist church last April began yesterday. Upon its conclusion he will be tried for the murder of Minnie Williams, committed in the same edifice. No one was admitted to the court room but attorneys, witnesses and reporters.

The attorneys for the defendant moved for a change of venue with the privilege of renewing the motion if it should be found impossible to secure an unbiased jury or should such a state of feeling be developed as would make a fair trial impossible. The motion consumed the entire day and will be resumed to-day.

WERE TO USE POISON.

Followers of Gen. Ezeta Accused of Attempting Crime.

New York, July 23.—A special from San Salvador says:

"Several Hondurans and Nicaraguans have been arrested and expelled from the country. It is stated a plot by partisans of Ezeta to murder the president and Foreign Minister Castellanos has been discovered. An Italian cook was arrested last night and confessed that he had been offered a large sum of money by Ezeta's supporters if he would poison the president. Ezeta's partisans say the Italian was hired to make the confession in order to discredit them. They emphatically deny his story.

"It is stated that Finance Minister Lemus' mission to the United States has two objects—one to negotiate a loan, the other to make a settlement with Antonio Ezeta to refrain from molesting the government."

RUINED HIS LITTLE WARD.

Adam Whistler of Muscatine, Iowa, Charged with a Brutal Crime.

Rock Island, Ill., July 23.—Adam Whistler, of Muscatine, has been placed under $1,000 bonds here on a charge of accomplishing the ruin of his eleven-year-old niece, an inmate of the Davenport Orphan's Home. Whistler is the child's guardian and took her from the home on several occasions ostensibly for the purpose of making a visit to relatives. The child was threatened with death if she ever revealed his actions. Fearing him she remained silent for almost two years until a few weeks ago, when she told her widowed mother. Whistler could not be held under the Iowa laws, which limit an arrest after a crime's commission to eighteen months. He was accordingly brought here. He is about thirty-five years of age and has a wife and four children.

ROYALISTS HAVE NO MONEY.

Hawaiian Consul at San Francisco Discredits Filibustering Stories.

San Francisco, July 23.—Consul Wilder, of Hawaii, says he does not think there is any foundation for the news from Port Townsend that vessels have been loaded there with munitions of war for the Hawaiian Islands and that an uprising against the existing government may take place next September. A telegram said that the United States government had instructed the customs authorities of the Puget Sound district to prevent the fitting out of filibustering expeditions to Hawaii. Mr. Wilder said he had no information about such an order having been issued, and he did not know of any shipment of arms from Puget Sound ports. Furthermore, he says the royalists have no money with which to make such warlike preparations.

Negro Laborers Alarmed.

Jacksonville, Fla., July 23.—One hundred negro laborers engaged to go to Central America to work on a new railroad were to have departed yesterday morning, but at the last minute fluked, they having been told that they were to be carried to Cuba to fight for or against the Spaniards. The negroes were much wrought up over the subject and could not be persuaded that their employers did not intend to dupe them. Mr. Hopkins has received orders for 1,000 negroes, to be sent in installments of 100 each week, but he now fears their credulity will prevent his filling more than a small part of the order.

Children Killed on the Street.

Philadelphia, Pa., July 23.—A horse attached to a carriage containing an unknown woman became unmanageable near the Poplar street entrance to Fairmount park last evening and dashing into the footwalk, struck down Edward S. Collins, aged 6 years, and his sister, Nellie, aged 10, who were walking with their parents. The boy died almost instantly in his father's arms and the other child is lying fatally injured at a hospital. It is feared that the mother will become insane from grief.

Shipped Away in a Box.

Seattle, Wash., July 23.—It has been learned that Frank J. Hart, a notorious bunco steerer, who broke jail last March with the desperado, Tom Black, finally made good his escape by being sent in a box to Pasco, on the Northern Pacific. Traveling Auditor Weir discovered how this box had been worked. There was nothing in the box but a few gunny sacks and a bottle of whisky. When the box was delivered the hour was midnight, and escape from the lonely freight-house was easy.

WAR WITH WYOMING INDIANS

Conflict Commenced—Hunting Party of Braves Wiped Out.

Market Lake, Idaho, July 23.—On July 3 thirty men left Jackson's Hole to arrest all the Indians breaking the game laws of Wyoming. In Hoback canon they surprised a camp of seventeen Indians and took them all prisoners and started with them for Jackson's Hole. In the canon the Indians tried to escape and all the Indians were killed except one papoose, who was brought to Jackson's Hole. There were 133 fresh elk skins in the camp.

John N. Carnes, a squaw man, and the oldest settler in Jackson's Hole, has gone over into Idaho and says every settler in Jackson's Hole will be butchered. There were 300 Bannock warriors on Hoback river when Carnes was there and he says all the squaws have been sent away and that the bucks are daily joining the main band.

Jackson's Hole settlers are now incensed, and waiting the attack. Unless the cavalry gets there quick, every settler between Jackson's Hole and this railway section may be massacred.

Pocatello, Idaho, July 23.—At the Bannock Indian Agency, thirteen miles north of here, those in authority, who are in possession of all the facts obtainable, do not believe the trouble in the Jackson's Hole country can possibly reach a final settlement without more bloodshed.

The rumors current here regarding depredations of a returning band of Bannocks and their killing of three white settlers cannot be further confirmed. Not more than fifty Indians have returned to the immediate vicinity of the agency and they will not talk. Although it can be positively stated that the rumored danger in this vicinity is without foundation, it is confidently believed, from the advices brought daily by the Indian police from the scene of the recent trouble in Northwestern Wyoming, that there will be other clashes between the Indians and the settlers and the tough characters in the Jackson's Hole country.

The clash in that region is one that occurs every year, but this time your correspondent learned at the agency that there seems a determination on both sides to settle the question as to whether the Indians have a right to hunt in that country regardless of state game laws.

The Indians will not give up their old grounds without a struggle, and the bona fide settlers and the characters far worse than Indians who infest part of the country, are determined to give the Indians such severe treatment that they will not return next year. Regarding these hunts, Indian agents labor under the embarrassing situation of instructions from Washington that both treaties and state laws must be respected, yet in several instances they are in direct conflict. At least 100 bucks are absent from the reservation, and nearly all their leaves of absence expired some time ago. Agent Teters has begun a thorough investigation of the trouble and is making a tour through the Jackson's Hole country on horseback.

STUDENTS IN NO DANGER.

The Party Not Within a Hundred Miles of the Trouble.

Omaha, Neb., July 23.—General Copping, commanding the Department of the Platte, has no information from Washington authorities concerning the safety of the Princeton geological party, supposed to be in the vicinity of the Indian troubles in Wyoming. He has wired for information, but has heard nothing. Old frontiersmen ridicule the idea of the students being in danger, as also do government scouts familiar with the situation.

Cheyenne, Wyo., July 23.—There is little uneasiness here over the safety of the Princeton College geological expedition. It is now almost certain that the route taken by the party, going north, brought them no nearer than eighty-five or a hundred miles to the scene of the reported Indian trouble.

FEARS NO TROUBLE.

Grand Chief Powell, of Railway Telegraphers, Not Alarmed.

Vinton, Iowa, July 23.—In reference to a telegram yesterday regarding trouble between the Gould system and the Order of Railway Telegraphers, Grand Chief Powell says he does not anticipate any such trouble. He left this city last night for Little Rock, and will make a personal investigation of matters. It is true, he says, the Cotton Belt Railroad has abrogated the contract with his order, but he has not yet received the particulars of the dissatisfaction on the part of the railroad management, but believes it can be settled satisfactorily to both sides without trouble.

Organize a Big Union.

Sharon, Pa., July 23.—The blast furnace men of Sharpsville, numbering 1,000, organized last night by electing E. C. Porterfield president; S. A. Murray, secretary, and C. S. Hoffus, treasurer. Other organizations in the Mahoning and Shenango valleys will be formed, and when this is accomplished they will all unite in one great union. The wages have always been governed by the manufacturers, and the object of the union is to fix a more uniform scale of wages. Every blast furnace man in the United States will be asked to join the union, and the furnace men say the ranks will be increased to 3,000 or 4,000 by August 1st.

Declines Supreme Bench Appointment.

Milwaukee, Wis., July 23.—Circuit Judge Charles M. Webb, after a careful consideration of the question last several weeks, has decided to decline the appointment of Associate Justice of the Supreme Court. He assigns personal reasons for his decision, and has written a letter to Governor Upham.

Meet to Arrange a Scale.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 23.—The railroad coal miners of this district are meeting here to arrange a uniform scale of wages, if possible, without resorting to a strike. Delegates from fifty-three mines are present.

OLD EXPRESS MAN HAS PASSED AWAY

PRESIDENT CHENEY OF THE AMERICAN DEAD.

End Came in Boston This Morning—Paul Wolf, of Ohio, a Well Known German Editor, Suffers From Ill Health and Ends His Sorrow By a Dose of Morphine.

Boston, July 23.—B. R. Cheney, president of the American Express Company, died this morning.

Cleveland, July 23.—Paul Wolf, a well known German editor, committed suicide this morning by taking morphine. He was in ill health.

A SHORT SESSION.

Little Business Transacted by Illinois Legislators.

Springfield, Ill., July 23.—In the senate yesterday Messrs. Littler, Barnes, and Hunter were the only members present. The bill introduced by Mr. Dunlap appropriating $5,000 to pay the employees of the special session was advanced to a third reading.

In the house forty members were in their seats. Mr. Payne, from the committee on enrolled and engrossed bills, reported that the arbitration bill had been engrossed, and it was made a special order for this morning. The following bills were introduced:

By Mr. Wilson—For state uniformity of school text-books, making the provision that the persons, company, or corporation authorized to furnish state school books shall pay into the state treasury one-half of 1 per cent of the aggregate amount of all sales made in Illinois. By Mr. Cody—For the regulation of telephone companies. By Mr. Bryan—Providing that no child under 14 shall be employed in any mercantile institution, store, laundry, manufacturing establishment, factory, or workshop within this state. By unanimous consent a number of bills were read a first time and referred to committee of the whole.

Speaker Cochran informed the house that the question whether or not any bill that may be introduced comes under the call of the Governor was a question for the house, and that whenever the house desired to raise the question it was at liberty to do so. The question, he said, would not be raised or decided by the speaker.

DEATH IN THE STORMS.

Three Lives Lost by Cloudburst in Ohio and Kentucky.

Cincinnati, July 23.—Dispatches from different parts of Ohio and Kentucky report severe storms Sunday. There storms seemed to visit certain sections, while adjacent districts are as dry as ever. Other points report cone-shaped bursts like the one near Zanesville which killed Mrs. Clem Wilson and George Deselm in the camp meeting. At Howard's Mill, near Mount Sterling, Ky., Green Garrett was struck by a cloud burst while riding along the highway. He and his horse were killed. Throughout the Ohio Valley the heat is intense.

Wheat Crop Far Overestimated.

Duluth, Minn., July 23.—Nearly every grain receiver at Duluth has received dispatches from his Dakota reporters, in most cases from men who have been sent from here to investigate, and which report great damage to wheat by smut. The reports, in addition, were to the effect that the crop had been overestimated in the first place, and that it had deteriorated during July, especially since the cold weather set in, so that it is now not believed that the crop of the three northwestern states will exceed 100,000,000 bushels, whereas 130,000,000 bushels has been the lowest estimate heretofore.

Strike Amicably Settled.

Mascoutah, Ill., July 23.—The coal miners' strike inaugurated in St. Clair County Friday, on account of the discharge of two miners at the Crown mines, has been amicably settled and the men returned to work. The committees got together and decided that the discharged men should apologize to their superintendent, and thereupon the superintendent agreed to reinstate them. No further trouble is anticipated.

Canadian Parliament Prorogued.

Ottawa, Ont., July 23.—The Canadian Parliament was prorogued yesterday, after a three months' session. Lord Aberdeen delivering the usual address from the throne, reviewing the legislation passed. The all-important Manitoba school question was but briefly mentioned, action on it being postponed until next session.

Expects Heavy Crops.

New York, July 23.—J. Sterling Morton, secretary of agriculture, was at the Imperial Hotel last night. As to the outlook for crops this year he said that from reports he had received he believed they would be unusually heavy. He said that from south and west, the most favorable reports were coming in, and that he did not expect there would be many districts where prosperity and plenty would not reign.

Four Hundred Men on Strike.

Cleveland, July 23.—Four hundred men employed at the Lake Shore foundry are on strike. They demand a restoration of the wages paid previous to a reduction, which took place about two years ago. Two hundred and fifty of the men are laborers, while the remaining 150 are cupola men.

Cause of a Recent Storm.

Atlantic City, N. J., July 23.—The council committee to investigate the cause of the recent disaster at the Casino, by which 1,000 Elks were precipitated to the floor below and many badly injured, reported last night. The report does not attempt to fix the responsibility for the disaster, but merely says it was caused by a rotten beam.

ONE FIFTH INCREASE IN GRAIN ACREAGE

COUNTY HAS 12,368 ACRES MORE
THIS YEAR.

Tobacco Occupying Less Ground—Corn and Oats are the Crops Where the Largest Increase is Manifest, While Barley, Wheat, Apples and Leaf Show a Decrease.

More corn and oats by 12,368 acres are growing in Rock county this summer than grew in 1894.

That raises considerable grain, does 12,368 acres in a good year like this.

As a whole there is an increase in the amount of soil under the plow this year, but tobacco, barley, wheat and apples show a decrease. People seem to be raising tobacco more as a side issue and less as a staple. They remember that their fathers plowed and dug pockets full of money out of Rock county dirt long before tobacco culture was attempted and they are trying to find how it was done. It doesn't look as if they had turned to what institute men call "diversified farming." A rush into corn and oats seems rather to be the program. Last year 215,245 acres were tilled. This year the assessors returns which have just been compiled by County Clerk McIntyre show 219,289. Figures for the two years follow:

| Crops. | 1894. | 1895. |
|-------------------|---------|---------|
| Wheat..... | 2,498 | 1,723 |
| Corn..... | 63,761 | 72,411 |
| Oats..... | 63,440 | 68,122 |
| Barley..... | 15,458 | 14,920 |
| Rye..... | 6,306 | 6,654 |
| Potatoes..... | 2,330 | 2,971 |
| Root crops..... | 38 | 32 |
| Apples..... | 3,647 | 1,464 |
| Small fruits..... | 108 | 139 |
| Tobacco..... | 5,850 | 4,482 |

How Crops Have Varied.

Along with these figures comes the statement of the yield of the principal crops last year. A very satisfactory year 1894 was, compared to the twelve months preceding it. Perhaps farmers spent so much time at the World's Fair that they neglected the chinch bugs and let long green worms get in the tobacco. Last year they worked harder to make up for it and raised 2,078,435 bushels of oats, against 1,848,180 in 1893; 1,587,338 bushels of corn, against 1,181,924, and 412,720 bushels of barley, against 318,269. There were only 124,714 bushels of potatoes, however, against 125,180 the year before, and the 7,412,423 pounds of tobacco grown in 1893 was followed by a trifling 4,851,773 pounds. The yield of other grains, etc., in 1894, included 40,878 bushels of wheat, a good round 70,637 bushels of rye, 7,585 bushels of root crops, 38,338 bushels of apples, 1,170 bushels of strawberries, 455 bushels of raspberries, 75 1-2 bushels of black berries, 75 bushels of currants, 152 bushels of grapes, 2080 1-2 bushels of clover seed, 4978 bushels of timothy seed, 1,004 acres of clover, 1328 1-2 acres of timothy, 1,647 pounds of flax, 50,591 tons of cultivated grasses 2,421,888 pounds of butter and 372,300 pounds of cheese.

It should be explained that in the comparisons between 1894 and 1895 as to growing crops, the town of Beloit acreage has been estimated, the figures not being on file.

Cities Raise Big Crops.

The cities do quite a bit themselves in the way of farming. Beloit, for example has over 950 acres of growing crops inside its city limits this year and harvested 6320 bushels of corn, 6710 of oats, 2039 of rye, 1,000 of barley and 16,500 pounds of tobacco last fall. Janesville hasn't annexed quite as much farming territory but has 290 acres of corn, 292 of tobacco and 218 of grass this year while its yield in bushels last year was: Corn, 8760; oats, 1960; rye, 360; barley, 3,520, and roots 310. Of tobacco it grew 291,800 pounds. The person that thinks Janesville is only affected indirectly by poor crops is mistaken. In a good year raised under the common council's jurisdiction to pay most of the taxes and buy pretty, blue uniforms for the police.

Different towns show widely varying conditions. Avon goes into rye and wheat heavier this year, and cuts down on corn, oats and tobacco. Much land that was under the plow last year, however, is reported to be in pasture this summer.

Bradford loses in corn, wheat, barley, tobacco and grass acreage, and gains a little on oats. Center has more land in corn and less in tobacco and barley. Clinton cuts her wheat and oat fields and enlarges her corn ground. Barley also occupies more land. Fulton farmers planted a lot of corn and oats, but not as much as in 1894. Tobacco more than held its own, which was something it didn't do in Harmony. Harmony makes up by a bigger corn and barley acreage. Janesville is also strong on corn and tobacco.

La Prairie Leads on Barley. A year ago Johnston planted more barley than any other town in the county. This year La Prairie leads her, Harmony having 3,885 acres and La Prairie, 4,016.

One of the few towns to increase her wheat acreage is Lima, which has raised more wheat than any other town for several years. Lima goes in heavily on all sorts of grain but like her neighbors across the Walworth county line does not care much for tobacco and reports only four and a half acres this year.

Assessors found very little rye, barley or wheat in Magnolia and even the fields of corn, oats and tobacco looked smaller than last year. Milton pins its faith this year to corn, oats and hay.

Newark has 3398 acres of corn, Plymouth, 3483, Porter 4199 and Rock 4,385. Center, Union and La Prairie are the only towns that lead Rock on corn. Union is the largest corn township in the county, her acreage being 5785.

Spring Valley has 346 acres of tobacco and is strong on grain. Turtle had but 14 acres of leaf when the assessors went around, but bragged of 3963 acres of the best corn ground that ever lay out of doors.

OSHKOSH PACERS SENT HOME. Two Strike and Albert E. Will Not "Go Down the Line."

Two Strike and Albert E. the two speedy Oshkosh pacers, went their last race for a few weeks at Janesville last Wednesday and both were shipped home from here. Two Strike was in C. A. Niles stable while J. O. Gerrity handled Albert E. Both went very creditable miles, but they stood no show with Fiddler, Frank Agan, Prairie Lily or Tom Ogden and as these horses were entered all through in the 2:10 class it was thought best to send them home. Both will probably start at the Waukesha and other minor meetings. Gerrity went from Janesville to Detroit with Maggie Sherman, Ella Wilkes and B. B. P. and from there he will go through the balance of the grand circuit.

NEW CREW ON TELEPHONE WORK. The Striking Linemen are Out of a Job in Midsummer.

A crew of new men started out on the phone line, this morning, and the men who struck yesterday are looking for vacancies elsewhere. Before they quit one of the men said they were perfectly satisfied with their wages and hours but didn't like the kind of bossing they were getting. These men belong to the Electrical Linemen's Union with headquarters at Milwaukee. They had been getting forty dollars a month and all expenses, but still they were dissatisfied. Most of them belong to the class known among electricians as "doaters," and never hold a job any length of time.

To Friends of The Family.

We cannot be expected to audit your coal bills, or send each friend a bottle of tonic, but we do claim to have a store where you will be treated right, and get goods at right prices. This is the way we do it. We have a hustler or bargain hunter connected with the firm, who goes out with a scalping knife and much hard cash, and its a cold day when he can't buy a stock from 30 to 50 per cent on the dollar. Stop and think what this means. One-third to one-half of the regular wholesale price. Now we can sell you goods at wholesale price and make enough to satisfy our wants. No matter if the sun does turn red, and rings encircle the moon and the calamity howlers howl, we will get there just the same. Lowell Hardware Co.

NEWS IN AFTON BRIEFLY PUT.

Glazier Jubilee Singers—Cheap Trip to Devil's Lake—Binders in Squads.

AFTON, July 23—Glazier's Jubilee Singers performed before a fair sized audience at Lawton's hall last Thursday evening. Three binders moving in procession around the grain fields of J. B. Humphrey's "Oakwood Stock Farm" last week, made an onlooker think of bonanza farming and North Dakota. Several Afton people have expressed a desire to visit Devil's Lake during the summer, and an opportunity will be given August 6, as the Chicago & Northwestern Railway will run an excursion train from Belvidere to that famous summer resort on that date. The train will leave Afton at 8:40 a. m., going via Janesville and the Evansville "cut off," thus giving Aftonites the benefit of a new route. The fare for the round trip is $1.50. The Modern Woodmen have provided their clerk with a well arranged and much needed desk, Neighbor James W. Seales having made the purchase during his recent visit to Milwaukee. LADIES IN DANGER
LEAP FROM A WAGON

NARROW ESCAPE OF A JANESVILLE PARTY AT NEWVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Burnham, Miss Alice Parker and Al Schaller Have a Runaway Accident On a Steep Hill—Nobody Injured.

A pleasure party, consisting of Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Allen and daughter Margaret, Miss Alice Parker, of Omaha, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Burnham and Albert Schaller had a narrow escape near Newville. They started for a day's outing at Lake Koshkonong, making the trip in a three seat. While descending the long hill leading to the Newville bridge the harness gave way, letting the wagon strike the horses. They became unmanageable at once and dashed down the hill. At the foot of the hill is the bridge embankment. For the edge of this and not for the bridge the team headed. The reins had ceased to guide them and somebody cried:

"Jump, we are going into the cut!"

Mrs. Burnham and Miss Parker both leaped, but struck the ground in such a way as to escape all injury save a few bruises and a general shake-up. Just as the dangerous spot in the road was reached, the team swerved and the rig remained right side up. At the bottom of the hill the men managed to bring the horses to a stop, Mrs. Allen and her little daughter being the only ones left in the wagon. The rest of the day, instead of being spent in pleasure, was spent in discussing how narrowly they had escaped.

A CURE FOR TRAMPS

A new tramp cure has been devised by Pennsylvania but it does not pretend to be anything but a penalty. Every convicted tramp is compelled to carry an armful of pig iron from one end of the long yard to the other. When it is all moved he has to carry it back again. The discipline of the tramp it is the only object served, but there is a kind of poetic justice in the very futility of the exertion which seems especially appropriate to the nature of the victim's offense.

The plan will be no more effective in keeping the jails clear than in the Rock county system, but there is a difference. Under the contract system tramps infest outlying parts of the county, knowing that it is against the sheriff's interests to lock them up. The pig iron plan might keep them out of the community altogether.

PARIS BORROWS YANKEE PLANS.

Not a few American ideas appear in the general plan adopted for the Paris exposition for 1900. The great attraction will be an avenue nearly 200 feet wide crossing the Seine on a steel bridge of one span. In the rear of the Eiffel tower an immense building will be mainly occupied by electric exhibits. As the numerous buildings will be located on both sides of the Seine, two passages over the river will be constructed for visitors on foot, and a circular electric road will connect the grounds on both banks. The two art buildings will be permanent. The beautiful avenues lined with trees and the handsome city grounds included in the plan will add to the general effect, and cars will be taken that they suffer no harm.

CROPS AND CASH

Large crops are in sight. They mean an increased income for farmers, likewise an abundance of food for the people at reasonable prices. They mean also an increase in traffic and income of the railroads, which will necessitate the employment of more men and the disbursement of more money in wages. This will force a growth in railroad construction, which has been at very low figures in the past two years, and will increase the demand for iron and steel products. The iron market is already active and in other industries the revival will follow.

Even the folks who want England to furnish us models for everything, from trousers to tariffs, will bar the British electoral system. It strings out the voting for thirty days, giving the statesman-out-of-a-job time to try half a dozen polls in succession to see if he can't possibly squeeze in. A vote under progressive euvre rules is certainly not as well calculated to secure a true reflection of public sentiment as the plan of having an election for the whole country on a single day.

A corn crop of 2,400,000,000 bushels is now being figured on. This is 200,000,000 or 300,000,000 larger than the greatest yield of the past. All the other cereals are an average crop and some of them above the average, while cotton promises to go up or near the highest mark ever touched except in one or two years. Nearly every element necessary to the prosperity of the country is being provided this year.

In the last two weeks the expenditures of the government have been $13,500,000 more than the receipts, and yet the treasury cash balance shows an increase of $1,500,000. Tricky book-keeping cannot be hid long, however, for the people demand honest practical methods in Washington and not scientific quibbles and evasions.

Is it worth while to keep firearms in the house as safeguards against burglars? Nine alarms out of ten are groundless, and merely expose innocent people to such mishaps as the shooting of Mrs. Chappell, of Delavan, by her son. Whenever a burglarly really occurs the thief is prepared for emergencies, and takes good care to shoot first.

Judge Webb has decided not to accept, and the whisper is heard that he didn't like the conditions under which the place on the supreme bench was offered.

No Justice from France.

Washington, July 23.—The negotiations with the French government respecting the case of ex-United States Consul Waller, who is now in confinement in a French jail at Marseilles, are in a most unsatisfactory shape, and his, too, in spite of the best efforts of the department exerted through Ambassador Eustis to secure justice for Waller. It is becoming evident that if anything is to be accomplished it will be only by the display of a much more determined stand than has yet been assumed by our government. France has as yet evinced no determination whatever to do justice to Waller.

Issued Duplicate Bonds.

Kenton, Ohio, July 23.—Jesse M. Lewis, an attorney of Urbana, Ohio, has been here a few days investigating the Hardin county bond forgeries of Z. T. Lewis. It has been developed that over $30,000 worth of Hardin county bonds have been duplicated, and that they were regularly signed by county officials. Arrests are likely to follow at once. Further developments of a highly sensational nature are looked for shortly.

Millions of Bonds Invalidated.

Los Angeles, Cal., July 23.—Judge Ross in the United States district court declared the Wright irrigation law unconstitutional. Under the Wright act bonds have been issued to the extent of $50,000,000 and are held all over the United States and Europe. The decision invalidates that $50,000,000 of bonds of irrigation districts in which confirmation proceedings have been taken.

Horse Wanted.

Wanted—A driving horse to be used for its keeping. Light work and excellent care. W. F. Hayes.

WHEN CHARLES I. WAS BEHEADED only one man in the vast crowd present knew why the blood spurted from the monarch's severed arteries—namely, Dr. Harvey, the Court Physician who discovered the circulation of the blood.

For asserting this fact he was reviled and persecuted, and came near to losing his own head. But the world has grown more intelligent and broad-minded since then, and when the Shakers of Mt. Lebanon, (N. Y.) announced their discovery of an absolute remedy for indigestion and dyspepsia it was welcomed both by the people and the physicians.

For ages dyspepsia has been the bete noire, the black beast, the bug-bear of the medical profession.

We know it to be the real cause of nine-tenths of our ailments, yet have never been able to master it. Its symptoms are numerous and perplexing—many of them falsely considered (and wrongly treated) as distinct diseases. Among them are: distress after eating; sickness and nausea; pains in the head, chest, sides and back; bad taste in the mouth and offensive gas rising to the throat; costiveness and irregularity of the bowels; variable appetite; heartburn and palpitation; sick headache; ringing in the ears; nervousness and loss of sleep; weakness and mental depression, etc.

The Shaker Digestive Cordial relieves and cures this condition as nothing else ever did. It is prepared with rare mountain herbs, cultivated by the Shakers. For many years this people have studied the disease, and humbly and faithfully sought the remedy. Having found and tested it they confidentially offered it to a world-full of sufferers. None who try it will be disappointed. It relieves immediately.

That you may learn whether it is adapted to your case the Shakers have placed trial bottles on the market at ten cents—for sale by nearly all druggists.

POLICE'S DRAG NET GOT MANY VICTIMS

MUNICIPAL COURT HAD A RUSH OF BUSINESS.

Nora Dulin, Honorary Member of the Whitelight Club, Sent to the Poor House—Aged Beloit Vagrant Similarly Treated—Youthful "Train Wrecker" Discharged.

Nora Dulin the only female honorary member of the White Light club is in the "pogy" for thirty days. Misfortune overtook Nora last Saturday and retribution came this morning. Mrs. Dulin was arrested by Chief Acheson and Officer Hogan while in imminent danger of losing her life. She and three active White lighters, one of whom was acting as watchman while the others rushed the can, were lying on a high bank near the St. Paul yard. When the police came the watchman gave the signal and Nora's companions fled. Not so with Nora. She was unable to move. Where she lay the least movement would have sent her rolling down on the track to be cut to pieces by the freight train that was puffing up from Hanover. When arraigned in court this morning, Nora's angular face was clouded.

"Have you a lawyer?" the judge asked after she had pleaded "not guilty."

"Paw is out gittin' wan," she explained, but afterwards she decided to plead guilty, whereupon the court sentenced her to the poor house—or, in the vocabulary of the organization, the "pogy"—for thirty days.

"I wasn't droonk, I had just taken some Kackapoo medicine," she declared when they led her away.

Fred Lyon Sent To Jail.

Fred Lyon, who gives his business as that of a "short order cook," pleaded guilty to a charge made against him by Officer Hogan, and the court sentenced him to serve twenty-five days in jail. Lyon was a bit immodest in his behavior on June 27, and his arrest followed. It was a habit with him, they said, to be careless about his personal appearance, so the court "made the punishment fit the crime."

Thomas Mulcairns who got into a row on the Court street bridge some days ago was in court yesterday afternoon, charged with committing assault and battery. He pleaded not guilty at first, but afterward admitted his offense and was sent to jail for one day. Then there came before the court, one William Simmons, whose name was ornamented with a charge of being drunk and disorderly. Simmons acknowledged the charge, and the consumption of the juice thereof, and he too was apportioned a one day's sentence. John Collins, who also fell by the wayside through the use of the same beverage, was fined $1 and costs, which he paid.

Petershefsky Boy Discharged.

Andrew Petershefsky, the ten year old boy who was charged with placing an obstruction on the C. & N. W. tracks near the "black bridge" was before the court on a complaint embodying that charge but on motion of District Attorney Jackson the case against the lad was dismissed.

Michael Murphy, an aged and infirm resident of Beloit was also in court, the charge against him being that he was a vagrant. The truth of the charge was plainly apparent as Murphy was physically unable to work and he had no money. After hearing his story Judge Phelps decided that the best thing to do with Murphy was to send him to the poor house for sixty days which was done.

GUIDE BOARDS SCARCE IN ROCK

Roads Very Poorly Marked in Many Parts of the County.

Cyclers who wheel in from other towns complain of the scarcity of guide boards. On several roads out of town no guide boards can be found for miles, and where any are left the lettering is obliterated and the post has warped until the direction indicated is very uncertain. Some of the wheelmen who have visited Janesville this week, say they rode several miles out of their way because of this condition of things.

OPERA HOUSE TAXED BY PEOPLE

Big Audience Saw "A Soap Bubble" Played Last Night.

An audience that taxed the capacity of the Myers Grand, saw the Van Dyke & Eaton Company play "A Soap Bubble" last night, and then went home thoroughly pleased with the performance. The price was but ten cents, and that sum bought a ticket to any part of the house. The company is a capable one, and they will probably do a big business the balance of the week.

NO POWER TO RUN TRAILER CARS

Superintendent Proudfoot Says Race Week Loads Were Heavy Enough.

Superintendent Proudfoot, of the Street Railway Company, says that the trailers could not have been used during race week if they had been needed. BRIDGE MADE WEAK BY ROTTEN PLANKS

COMMISSIONER WATSON AT WORK TODAY.

Some of the Lumber So Badly Decayed That It Crumbled at The Touch of Tools—Some Narrow Escapes From Damage Suits Against the City.

Street Commissioner Watson put a crew of men to work on Milwaukee street bridge today tearing up the blocks and removing the old planking. The stringers were found to be in fairly good condition but in many places the planks upon which the blocks were laid were so decayed that they fell away before the blows of the picks. Some of them would be sound in the middle but decayed on the ends where the water had settled and helped the natural decay along. This was especially true of the gutter ends where constant dampness had told on the lumber. Commissioner Watson, who has made a reputation as a hustler, was pushing the work as rapidly as possible, but said they would barely get the north side, which was torn up first, cleared before this evening. As soon as the city force removed the blocks and decking, Ryan & Brown, who have the contract for the replanking and repaving, began their work. When the planks were torn up this morning, it was shown that the structure was badly in need of fixing and it is rather strange that no accident has happened. It will probably take a week or more to complete the work, and as the street railway's tracks had to be torn up, passengers are transferred from one end of the bridge to the other. The work will be pushed as rapidly as possible in order to impede traffic as little as can be helped.

CHURCH EXCURSION A SUCCESS

The excursion given by the First M. E. church to Palmyra Springs today was a success on every particular. When the Milwaukee passenger train pulled into the city this morning, four extra cars were attached to it in the Janesville yards and four hundred Janesvillians at once piled into them. Children swarmed everywhere as they were carried for ten cents for the round trip, while adults paid seventy-five. When the train reached Milton another car was added, and one more was taken at Whitewater.

The Stumbling Block.

"The manner in which my father-in-law treats me," said the count, "is shameful. He has allowed my debts to accumulate; my monthly remittances have fallen into arrears; he has left me penniless."

"But," said the lawyer, "that is not sufficient ground for divorce."

"I don't want a divorce," said the count. "But can't I sue my father-in-law for damages? Has he not violated an implied contract?"

"Oh! yes," replied the lawyer. "You can prove cruelty and abandonment and non-support."

"You see no obstacle, then, to commencing such an action at once?"

"None—except that my retainer is payable in advance."

But the count strode haughtily from the room.—Life.

A Man for Her.

The villain gnashed his gleaming teeth with the grating sound of the breaking up of an ice gorge.

"Never," she twittered. "You are on the wrong tack. The man to win me must bring the dust to me."—Cincinnati Tribune.

Gratifying.

"That boy of yours, madam," remarked the ticket inspector, as he punched the half-fare ticket, "looks remarkably well developed for a child under twelve."

"Thank you," replied the lady, calmly. "It's so gratifying to me to have anyone notice Tommy's remarkable precocity." The inspector was crushed and said nothing more.—London Fun.

GAS FOR POWER.

One of the Latest Triumphs of Mechanical Genius.

Another device for adapting the gas engine to the running of vehicles on ordinary roads is spoken of with commendation as a mechanical triumph by the scientific press. It is a tricycle mechanism, propelled by a two-horse power engine, and, having been tested on various city streets under varying conditions of grade and roadway, is said to have proved in every instance satisfactory, being of easy control as regards starting, the regulation of speed, turning, stopping, etc. The machine is circulated to carry three persons on a single broad seat, though operated by one, with surplus power sufficient to trail one or two buggies, or a loaded wagon, according to the character or condition of the road. It carries twelve hours' supply of gasoline, or two and one-half gallons, and easily attains a speed of from, say, ten to twelve miles per hour on fairly favorable ground, and being geared in such a manner that the movement of a lever increases or decreases the speed, enables the driver to climb grades of considerable pitch. It is claimed to be perfectly safe, is very simple in construction, the entire device being strong enough to withstand hard usage.

SUNDAY'S SERMON BY DR. TALMAGE

A PLAIN TALK ABOUT THE PLAIN PEOPLE.

They Who Provide the Food of the World, Physical as Well as Moral.
Also Decide the Health of the World
—Trials of Conspicuous People.

NEW YORK, July 21, 1895.—Rev. Dr. Talmage, who is still absent on his annual mid-summer tour, preaching and lecturing, has prepared for to-day a sermon on "Plain People," a topic which will appeal to a very large majority of readers anywhere. The text selected was: Romans 16:14-15, "Salute Asyncritus, Philegon, Hermas, Patrobas, Hermes, Philologus and Julia."

Matthew Henry, Albert Barnes, Adam Clark, Thomas Scott and all the commentators pass by these verses without any especial remark. The other twenty people mentioned in the chapter were distinguished for something, and were therefore discussed by the illustrious expositors; but nothing is said about Asyncritus, Philegon, Hermas, Patrobas, Hermes, Philologus and Julia. Where were they born? No one knows. Where did they die? There is no record of their decease. For what were they distinguished? Absolutely for nothing or the trait of character would have been brought out by the apostle. If they had been very intrepid or opulent, or hirsute, or musical, or cadence, or crass of style, or in anywise anomalous, that feature would have been caught by the apostolic camera. But they were good people, because Paul sent to them his high Christian regards. They were ordinary people, moving in ordinary sphere, attending to ordinary duty, and meeting ordinary responsibilities.

What the world wants is a religion for ordinary people. If there be in the United States 65,000,000 people, there are certainly not more than 1,000,000 extraordinary; and then there are 64,000,000 ordinary, and we do well to turn our backs for a little while upon the distinguished and conspicuous people of the Bible and consider in our text the seven ordinary. We spend too much of our time in twisting garlands for remarkable, and building thrones for magistrates, and sculpturing warriors, and apotheosizing philanthropists. The rank and file of the Lord's soldiery need especial help.

The vast majority of people to whom this sermon comes will never lead an army, will never write a State constitution, will never electrify a Senate, will never make an important invention, will never introduce a new philosophy, will never decide the fate of a nation. You do not expect to; you do not want to. You will not be a Moses to lead a nation out of bondage. You will not be a Joshua to prolong the daylight until you can shut five kings in a cavern. You will not be a St. John to unroll an Apocalypse. You will not be a Paul to preside over an apostolic college. You will not be a Mary to mother a Christ. You will more probably be Asyncritus, or Philegon, or Hermas, or Patrobas, or Hermes, or Philologus, or Julia.

Many of you are women at the head of households. This morning you launched the family for Sabbath observance. Your brain decided the apparel, your judgment was final on all questions of personal attire. Every morning you plan for the day. The culinary department of your household is in your dominion. You decide all questions of diet. All the sanitary regulations of your house are under your supervision. To regulate the food, and the apparel, and the habits, and decide the thousand questions of home life is a tax upon brain and nerve and general health absolutely appalling, if there be no divine alleviation.

It does not help you much to be told that Elizabeth Fry did wonderful things among the criminals of Newgate. It does not help you much to be told that Mrs. Judson was very brave among the Bornean cannibals. It does not help you much to be told that Florence Nightingale was very kind to the wounded in the Crimea. It would be better for me to tell you that the divine Friend of Mary and Martha is your Friend, and that he sees all the annoyances and disappointments and abrasions and exasperations of an ordinary housekeeper from morn till night, and from the first day of the year to the last day of the year, and at your call he is ready with help and reinforcement.

They who provide the food of the world decide the health of the world. One of the greatest battles of this century was lost because the commander that morning had a fit of indigestion. You have only to go on some errand amid the taverns and the hotels of the United States and Great Britain to appreciate the fact that a vast multitude of the human race are slaughtered by incompetent cookery. Though a young woman may have taken lessons in music, and may have taken lessons in painting, and lessons in astronomy, she is not well educated unless she has taken lessons in dough! They who decide the apparel of the world and the food of the world decide the endurance of the world.

An unthinking man may consider it a matter of little importance—the cares of the household and the economies of domestic life—but I tell you the earth is strewn with the martyrs of kitchen and nursery. The health-shattered womanhood of America cries out for a God who can help ordinary women in the ordinary duties of housekeeping. The weary, grinding, unappreciated work goes on, but the same Christ who stood on the bank of Galilee in the early morning and kindled the fire and had the fish already cleaned and broiling when the sportsmen stepped ashore chilled and hungry, will help every woman to prepare breakfast, whether by her own hand or by the hand of her hired help. The God who made indestructible eulogy of Hannah, who made a coat for Samuel, her son, and carried it to the temple every year, will help every woman in preparing the family wardrobe. The God who opens the Bible with the story of Abraham's entertainment of the three angels on the plains of Mamre will help every woman to provide hospitality, however rare and embarrassing. It is high time that some of the attention we have been giving to the remarkable women of the Bible—remarkable for their virtue or their want borah and Jezebel, and Herodias and Athaliah, and Dorcas and the Marys, excellent or abandoned—it is high time some of the attention we have been giving to these conspicuous women of the Bible be given to Julia of the text, an ordinary woman amid ordinary circumstances, attending to ordinary duties and meeting ordinary responsibilities.

Then there are all the ordinary business men. They need divine and Christian help. When we begin to talk about business life we shoot right off and talk about men who did business on a large scale, and who sold millions of dollars of goods a year; but the vast majority of business men do not sell a million dollars of goods, nor half a million, nor a quarter of a million, nor the eighth part of a million. Put all the business men of our cities, towns, villages and neighborhoods side by side, and you will find that they sell less than fifty thousand dollars' worth of goods. All these men in ordinary business life want divine help. You see how the wrinkles are printing on the countenance the story of worry and care. You cannot tell how old a business man is by looking at him. Gray hairs at thirty. A man at forty-five with the stoop of a nonagenarian. No time to attend to improved dentistry, the grinders cease because they are few. Actually dying of old age at forty or fifty, when they ought to be at the meridian. Many of these business men have bodies like a neglected clock to which you come and you wind it up, and it begins to buzz and roar, and then the hands start around very rapidly, and then the clock strikes five, or ten, or forty, and strikes without any sense, and then suddenly stops. So is the body of that worn-out business man.

Now, what is wanted is grace—divine grace for ordinary business men, men who are harnessed from morn till night and all the days of their life—harnessed in business. Not grace to lose a hundred thousand, but grace to lose ten dollars. Not grace to supervise two hundred and fifty employees in a factory, but grace to supervise the book-keeper, and two salesmen and the small boy that sweeps the store. Grace to invest not the eighty thousand dollars of net profit, but the twenty-five hundred of clear gain. Grace not to endure the loss of a whole shipload of spices from the Indies, but grace to endure the loss of a paper of collars from the leakage of a displaced single on a poor roof. Grace not to endure the tardiness of the American Congress in passing a necessary law, but grace to endure the tardiness of an errand boy stopping to play marbles who he ought to deliver the goods. Such a grace as thousands of business men have to-day—keeping them tranquil whether goods sell or do not sell, whether customers pay or do not pay, whether tariff is up or tariff is down, whether the crops are luxuriant or are a dead failure—calm in all circumstances and amid all vicissitudes. That is the kind of grace we want. Millions of men want it, and they may have it for the asking. Some hero or heroine comes to town, and as the procession passes through the street, the business men come out and stand upon tiptoe on their store steps and look at some one who in Arctic clime, or in ocean storm, or in day of battle, or in hospital agencies, did the brave thing, not realizing that they, the enthusiastic spectators, have gone through trials in business life that are just as great before God. There are men who have gone through freezing Arctics, and burning torrids, and awful Marengo's of experiences without moving five miles from their door.

Now, what ordinary business men need is to realize that they have the friendship of that Christ who looked after the religious interests of Matthew, the custom-house clerk, and helped Lydia, of Thyatira, to sell the dry goods, and who opened a bakery and fish-market in the wilderness of Asia Minor to feed the seven thousand who had come out on a religious picnic, and who counts the hairs of your head with as much particularity as though they were the plumes of a coronation, and who took the trouble to stoop down with his finger writing on the ground, although the first shuffle of feet obliterated the divine calligraphy, and who knows just how many locusts there were in the Egyptian plague, and knew just how many ravens were necessary to supply Elijah's pantry by the brook Cherith, and who, as floral commander, leads forth all the regiments of primroses, foxgloves, daffodils, hyacinths, and lilies which pitch their tents of beauty and kindle their camp-fires of color all around the hemisphere—that Christ and that God knows the most minute affairs of your business life and however inconsiderable, understanding all the affairs of that woman who keeps a thread-and-needle store as well as all the affairs of a Rothschild, and a Stewart.

Then there are all the ordinary farmers. We talk about agricultural life, and we immediately shoot off to talk about Cincinnatus, the patrician, who went from the plough to a high position, and after he got through the dictatorship in twenty-one days went back again to the plough. What encouragement is that to ordinary farmers? The vast majority of them—none of them will be patricians. Perhaps none of them will be Senators. If any of them have dictatorships it will be over forty, or fifty, or a hundred acres of the old homestead. What those men want is grace to keep their patience while ploughing with balky oxen, and to keep cheerful amid the drought that destroys the corn crop, and that enables them to restore the garden the day after the neighbor's cattle have broken in and trampled out the strawberry bed, and gone through the Lima bean patch, and eaten up the sweet corn in such large quantities that they must be kept from the water lest they swell up and die. Grace in catching weather that enables them, without imprecation, to spread out the hay the third time, although again and again and again it has been almost ready for the mow. A grace to doctor the cow with a hollow horn, and the sheep with the foot-rot, and the horse with the distemper, and to compel the unwilling acres to yield a livelihood for the family, and schooling for the children, and little extras to help the older boy in business, and something for the daughter's wedding outfit, and a little surplus for the time when the ankles will get stiff with age, and the breath will be a little short, and the swinging of the cradle through the hot harvest field will bring on the old man's vertigo. Better close up about Cincinnatus. I know five hundred farmers just as noble as he was.

What they want is to know that they have the friendship of that Christ who often drew his smiles from the farmer's life, as when he said: "A sower his best parable out of the scene of a farmer's boy coming back from his wanderings, and the old farmhouse shook that night with rural jubilee; and who compared himself to a lamb in the pasture field, and who said the eternal God is a farmer, declaring: "My Father is the husbandman."

Those stone masons do not want to know about Christopher Wren, the architect, who built St. Paul's Cathedral. It would be better to tell them how to carry the hod of brick up the ladder without slipping, and how on a cold morning with the trowel to smooth off the mortar and keep cheerful, and how to be thankful to God for the plain food taken from the pail by the roadside.

Carpenters standing amid the adze, and the bit, and the plane, and the broad axe need to be told that Christ was a carpenter, with his own hand wielding saw and hammer. Oh, this is a tired world, and it is an overworked world, and it is an underfed world, and it is a wrung-out world, and men and women need to know that there is rest and recuperation in God and in that religion which was not so much intended for extraordinary people as for ordinary people because there are more of them.

The healing profession has had its Abercrombies, and its Abernethys, and its Valentine Motts and its Willard Parkers; but the ordinary physicians do the most of the world's medicating, and they need to understand that while taking diagnosis or prognosis, or writing prescription, or compounding medicament, or holding the delicate pulse of a dying child they may have the presence and the dictation of the Almighty Doctor who took the case of the madman, and after he had torn off his garments in foaming dementia, clothed him again, body and mind, and who lifted up the woman who for eighteen years had been bent almost double with the rheumatism, into graceful stature, and who turned the scabs of leprosy into rubicund complexion, and who rubbed the numbness out of paralysis, and who swung wide open the closed windows of hereditary or accidental blindness, until the morning light came streaming through the fleshy casements, and who knows all the diseases, and all the remedies, and all the herbs, and all the cathartics, and is monarch of pharmacy and therapeutics, and who has sent out ten thousand doctors of whom the world makes no record; but to prove that they are angels of mercy, I invoke the thousands of men whose ailments have been assuaged and the thousands of women to whom in crisis of pain they have been next to God in beneficence.

Come, now, let us have a religion for ordinary people in professions, in occupations, in agriculture, in the household, in merchandise, in everything. I salute across the centuries Asyncritus, Philegon, Hermas, Patrobas, Hermes, Philologus and Julia.

First of all, if you feel that you are ordinary, thank God that you are not extraordinary. I am tired and sick, and bored almost to death with extraordinary people. They take all their time to tell us how very extraordinary they really are. You know as well as I do, my brother and sister, that the most of the useful work of the world is done by unpretentious people who toil right on—by people who do not get much approval, and no one seems to say, "that is well done." Phenomena are a bit of little use. Things that are exceptional cannot be depended on. Better trust the smallest planet that swings on its orbit than ten comets shooting this way and that, imperiling the longevity of worlds attending to their own business. For steady illumination better is a lamp than a rocket. Then, if you feel that you are ordinary, remember that your position invites the less attack.

Conspicuous people—how they have to take it! How they are misrepresented, and abused, and shot at! The higher the horns of a roebuck the easier to track him down. What a delicious thing it must be to be a candidate for President of the United States! It must be so soothing to the nerves! It must pour into the soul of a candidate such a sense of serenity when he reads the blessed newspapers!

I came into the possession of the abusive cartoons in the time of Napoleon I., printed while he was yet alive. The retreat of the army from Moscow, that army buried in the snows of Russia, one of the most awful tragedies of the centuries, represented under the figure of a monster called General Frost shaving the French Emperor with a razor of icicle. Ag Satyr and Beelzebub he is represented, page after page, after page. England cursing him, Spain cursing him, Germany cursing him, Russia cursing him, Europe cursing him, North and South America cursing him. The most remarkable man of his day, and the most abused. All those men in history who now have a halo around their name, on earth were a crown of thorns. Take the few extraordinary railroad men of our time, and see what abuse comes upon them, while thousands of stockholders escape. All the world took after Thomas Scott, President of the Pennsylvania Railroad, abused him until he got under the ground. Thousands of stockholders in that company. All the blame on one man! The Central Pacific Railroad—two or three men get all the blame if anything goes wrong. There are 10,000 in that company.

At an anniversary of a deaf and dumb asylum one of the children wrote upon the blackboard words as sublime as the Iliad, the Odyssey, and the "Divina Commedia" all compressed in one paragraph. The examiner, in the signs of the mute language, asked her, "Who made the world?" The deaf and dumb girl wrote upon the blackboard, "In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth." The examiner asked her, "For what purpose did Christ come into the world to save sinners?" dumb girl wrote upon the blackboard, "This is a faithful saying, and worthy of all acceptance, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners." The examiner said to her, "Why were you born deaf and dumb, while I hear and speak?" She wrote upon the blackboard, "Even so, Father; for so it seemeth good in thy sight." Oh, that we might be baptized with a contented spirit! The spider draws poison out of a flower, the bee gets honey out of a thistle; but happiness is a heavenly elixir, and the contented spirit extracts it not from the rhododendron of the hills, but from the lily of the valley.
